Presentation Outline

Nicholas Alexeev

August 31, 2021

1 Presentation

I have chosen to examine the process by which Oracle relicensed one of its major products, Solaris. This issue is interesting because it has had major contributions from third parties with the understanding that their work would always be available for free. This issue is a conflict between uttilitarianism, where Oracle had a short term interest in limiting access to their product and maintaining good will with the development community.